MEMBERSHIP LIST: The second page of our membership list is included with this issue of Timber Talk.

SASKATCHEWAN WOOD: Also included with this issue of Timber Talk is Page 4 of Cec Tannahill's listing of Saskatchewan wood.

CIBC WOOD: Thanks to Norm Wells and The Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce we should have enough of the wood pictured below to send out to each member. If not, George Parfet has sent a few of another CIBC issue that we will enclose.

POSTAGE COSTS: At the present time postage is the largest expense in printing Timber Talk. We try to get the maximum use of all postage. For example, four pages of paper and one wooden nickel plus the envelope just equals one ounce. If anything else is included the next rate of postage applies, and at this level it costs more to send the letter outside of Canada. This is why most issues of Timber Talk comprise four pages + a free wood.

1977 VANCOUVER DOMINION DAY WOODEN PIECES: Although we attempt to print only standard size pages, Norm Williams has kindly sent a supply of his article which appeared in The Vancouver Numismatic Society News Bulletin, Vol. 17, No. 8, October 1977. It is included as Page 2 of this issue of Timber Talk.

SICK BAY: Get well wishes to our President Vic Hall who is now resting at home after a short stay in hospital. Vic should be back on his feet by the time you read this

NEW ISSUE: Moncton Coin Club wooden 5¢ for sale at 50¢ each plus SASE from Geoff Bell - 395 Highfield Street - Moncton - New Brunswick - E1C 5R7. This is a new issue (1977), commemorating Queen Elizabeth's Silver Jubilee.

1977 Vancouver Dominion Day Wooden Pieces

To help celebrate Dominion Day which is usually held on July 1st. of each year, the Vancouver Centennial Museum held an "Old - Fashioned Dominion Day " celebration on Saturday, July 2nd., 1977 on the grounds surrounding the Vancouver Centennial Museum and MacMillan Planetarium.

A celebration was held with type sports races. Sailboat and Indian war canoe races, log rolling contests, caber tossing events (for hearty Scots) with the public being invited to partake in barbecued Shortribs, strawberry shortcake and cool drinks. Everything carried an 1870 Old-Fashioned theme. The ladies and gentlemen were attired in clothing of the era, the ice cream was made from old-fashioned recipes & the Brass bands and dancing groups supplied eighteenth century entertainment.

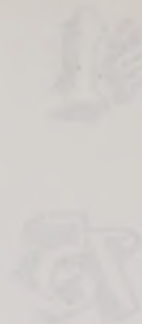

The Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce was pleased to support the community event by underwriting the cost of wooden tokens which had to be purchased from a booth and then traded for various items for sale. The Wooden pieces were printed in three denominations, namely $1, 75¢ and 25¢. They were issued in amounts of 4,000 one dollar pieces, 1,000 seventy-five cent pieces and 12,000 twenty-five cent pieces.

The art work was designed by Frand Lewis, a Vancouver free-lance illustrator. The Obverse describes an Old Fashioned Dominion Day while the Reverse shows the denomination along with a bearded face and the symbol of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce with the denomination.

In order to help make change easier, the reverse printing was in a common maroon color while the obverse of the 25¢ piece was in blue; the 75¢ piece in green and the $1 issue in red. The Committee did not anticipate the large turnout and there was much confusion in handling these tokens due to the common maroon reverse with different denominations.

Collectors can obtain examples of these tokens by writing to the GIFT SHOP, Vancouver Centennial Museum, 1100 Chestnut Str., Vancouver, B.C., V6J 3J9. Please enclose a self-addressed envelope with payment in the sum of two dollars.
